Answer to Poster Circulated by Messrs. W. S. Foote and E. W. Corbett

The tax rate in the Town of Lis-bon has been 15 mills for many years, and will remain so this year.

2. The debt of the Town has not increased during John G. Bromley's administration; and if the Town Treasurer, a republican, had done his duty according to law, the tax money, amounting to $2,637.83, now in the hands of the Receiver of the Thames Loan and Trust company, would be in the hands of the Town and would have been applied to the payment of the $2,000 borrowed this year, and the Town would have been run even for the first time in many years. the first time in many years.

3. The charge that your property is decreasing in value is too inane for answer. Farm values in the Town of Lisbon are increasing.

4. John G. Bromley is accused by his traducers of standing in with the liquor element. The liquor question is a pretty dead issue to resort to in a Town that is no-license and where no vote is to be taken on that question. The First Selectman has as much officially to do with the liquor business as the County Commissioners have to do with the management of Town schools. with the management of Town schools.

b. The Town borrowed $2,000 the year past, as all towns must borrow to pay current obligations with, and the turn to take up with the money realized from laxes. Where is the money realized from taxes? 6. John G. Bromley has always favored good roads, and the last year all the money that a small town can afford has been put into road improvement; also the last year the First Selectman has had to meet $250 for roads incurred by the previous administration.

The Town borrowed $2,000 the

7. Perhaps if Mr. W. S. Foote had paid his taxes for the present year he would be in abetter position to vilify a man that has paid his. Perhaps if Messrs. Foote and Corbett would prove something irstead of weakly asserting that what they say could be proved, they might expect some results. But we know that the voters are from Missouri and that no such weak kneed mud slinging will get from them any more consideration than it deserves the consideration as to what kind of men they are who resort to such petry political junk. Perhaps if Mr. W. S. Foote had.
